

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20503

Statement from Acting OMB Director Russ Vought:

Budgetary Impact Analysis for Executive Order Entitled “Securing the Information and Communications Technology and Services Supply Chain”

This executive order, among other things, directs relevant agencies to undertake certain steps to secure the information and communications technology and services supply chain. Implementing this executive order would have a de minimis impact on costs and revenues to the Federal Government. The benefits of this executive order include protecting the security, integrity, and reliability of information and communications technology and services provided and used in the United States. Implementing this executive order would have a de minimis impact on mandatory and discretionary obligations and outlays, as well as on revenues to the Federal Government, in the 5-fiscal year period beginning in fiscal year 2019. The agencies anticipated to be impacted by this executive order include the Departments of State, the Treasury, Defense, Justice, Commerce, and Homeland Security, the Office of the United States Trade Representative, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence, the General Services Administration, and the Federal Communications Commission.
