President Trump is saving Michigan's automobile industry.

01 / MICHIGAN

Since returning to office President Trump has imposed a series of tariffs on foreign vehicles and vehicle parts:

In March 2025, President Trump imposed a 25% tariff on all passenger vehicles and light trucks built outside of the U.S.

In April 2025, President Trump signed a Presidential Proclamation incentivizing domestic automobile production by offering an offset to a portion of tariffs for automobile parts used in U.S.-assembled vehicles.

In October 2025, President Trump imposed a 25% tariff on medium- and heavy-duty trucks built outside of the U.S.

02 / MICHIGAN

President Trump's deregulatory efforts and America First Trade Agenda have already begun paying major dividends for Michigan's automobile industry:

Engine manufacturer Detroit Diesel announced it will recall laid off workers and add a third shift in response to President Trump's tariffs on heavy-duty vehicles.

In August 2025, Ford announced a $3 billion investment in U.S. manufacturing, much of which will go to its BlueOval Battery Park in Marshall, Michigan.

In June 2025, General Motors announced a $4 billion investment in U.S. manufacturing, much of which will go toward SUV and pickup truck production at its Orion Assembly plant in Orion Township, Michigan.

Michigan-based automobile manufacturers thrived in 2025, with Ford achieving its best annual sales in six years and General Motors reporting soaring overall vehicle sales.

President Trump is also fighting to save other crucial Michigan industries, including furniture and steel production.

01 / MICHIGAN

In June 2025, President Trump raised steel tariffs to 50%, driving a surge in U.S. steel production. Michigan is a top-five state in terms of steel production.

02 / MICHIGAN

In August 2025, President Trump announced a tariff investigation into furniture imports in order to bring the furniture business back to Michigan, among other states.
